BARDSTOWN FEMALE INSTITUTE.-This excellent institution, under charge of Rev. J. Atkinson will hold its examination on the 17th and 18th of June. The occasion will be an interesting one, and, as Bardstown is so convenient to us, we have no doubt many of our citizens will avail themselves of an opportunity to be present.

FROM UTAH.—Intelligence from Utah up to the 19th of May has been received. The grand jury for the United States District Court adjourned without taking any action in the matter of Brigham Young's arrest for polygamy; the whole subject was treated as a matter for jest. A detachment of troops, under Col. Evans, had a skirmish with a band of Indians on the 15th ultimo, near Spanish Fork, sixty miles south of Salt Lake City. Twenty of the latter were killed and three of the former wounded. A few days subsequently Young set out for the southern part of the Territory to visit the cotton plantations. Some five hundred wagons had also gone forth "to bring in the poor saints gathered up from among the nations;" at the same time a fresh batch of "Missionaries" have gone forth to make proselytes. A considerable number of "Morrisites" (schismatics) have left Salt Lake for Idaho, anxious to escape from the despotism of Brigham, who is represented as persecuting them severely.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe has purchased a lot of ground in Hartford, on the banks of Park River, on which to erect a residence. The house is to be in the Gothic style, with pointed ornamental gables, battlemented chimneys, which project from the walls on the outside, and serve as buttresses as well as ornaments, hooded windows with the sashes terminating in cupses, and all the other peculiarities of that graceful style of architecture. The building is to be of brown stone and with the enemies of his country and untrue to the Union, and called upon Lucian Anderson, who was sick at our County Court, to reply to Judge T.'s speech, which he did on Monday, the first day of our Circuit Court

Mr. A. replied to the speech as it had been reported to him, and took the ground that no man could take the position of refusing men and money to prosecute the war without giving aid to the enemies of our country, and denounced any man who now took that position him who were all anxious to have the matter understood so that no further musunderstanding could arise, again put the question in the following words: That if called upon now with the policy of the war before him, as it now is, would you, Judge, vote men and mo-ney to sustain the war? He writhed and Louis Napoleon .- I chanced to meet him LOUIS NAPOLEON.—I chanced to meet him few times at the houses of people who are accustomed to give dinners here. And it seems to me that even there was something lurking in him that betokened he was of the blood of in him that betokened he was of the blood of the old Napoleon, who was, as I read it, the great highwayman of history; his habit being to clutch King Kaiser by the throat, and swear by the Eternal, "If you don't stand and deliver instantly, I'll blow your brains out!" A profitable trade he did at this sort of thing until another man, who had learned his trick—Arther, Duke of We lington, by name—succeeded in clutching him, and there was an end of him. This Louis Napoleon, as he is called, used to talk to me about the spirit of the age, the democratic spirit, and the progress of the species; but for my own part it seemed that the only progress the species was makawaiting his answer with breathless silence so still that you could have heard the dropping of a pin—and seeing that he had no way of escape from so plain a question, and being again goaded by Mr. A., that if he was so fair and did not want to be misunderstood, to answer the question—he then answered, and said that he would vote neither men nor money. Everything was still and silent, and Mr. A. called to the crowd to bear witness to his answer. This answer of the Judge from the same stand and so soon after his warlike demonstrations and bitter denunciations of those who had said that his position taken in his speech at the county court was against voting men and money—caused his warmest pretended secesh friends to hang their heads in silent that the only progress the species was making was backward; and the spirit of the age was leading the people downward; and we discovered that we didn't understand each other's language; that we had no key in common for our dislects. And we parted same other's language; that we had no key in common for our dialects. And we parted asunder, as mayhap did Abraham and Lot before—each going his several ways. It looks to me very much as if his way led him to Sodom. Afterwards I used to see him in this neighborhood (I think he'd lodgings somewhere in this part of the town) with his hands folded across his breast, and his eyes fixed with a malanchally stare upon the ground; and he him successfully in a race against the candidate of the Union party. The Judge now left the stand, declaring as he went that he was as. the stand, declaring as he went that he was as good a Union man as anybody. Just before reaching the door he was called upon by Mr. A. again, who said: "Judge, you say you are a Union man." "Yes." "Then do you endorse the action of the Union Convention held at Louisville on the 18th of March, and will you support the nominees of said Convention?" He answered, "I do not endorse the action of that convention neither will I support the melancholy stare upon the ground; and he looked to me for all the world like a poor opera singer in search of an engagement. God knows he has succeeded in finding an engageknows he has succeeded in finding an engagement upon a stage sufficiently vast, before an audience ample enough for any man, and the whole thing got up regardless of expense. But I certainly expect that the day will come when the blue sulphurous flames will dart from behind the scenes, and consume the pile with all that are in it; or that the edifice will give way in a crash of ruin, and the wholesinger, audience, and all—will sink into nethermost depths of abysmal perdition, where it seems to me they certainly belong.—Carlyle.

his race with Burnett, feeling that he had be-trayed not only them but the Government through which he had received so many fa-

as a traitor and untrue to his country, which sentiment has been endorsed unanimously by the Union men in this county. At the solicit ation of secessionists, whose names I have, and who promised to publish his appointment, the Judge made another appointment, and spoke again last Thursday. His speech was nearly the same that he made at county court; that he still stood on the Dem-ocratic platform of 1852, '56, and '60; that the President had deceived him in pledges given him face to face; that this was an abolition war, and waged for the destruction of the Con-stitution. He was not quite so bitter in his denunciations of the Administration as he was at county court. This I believe is the regular programme for this new constitutional party would permit of no turther misconstruction. His reply was that it was unnecessary to answer that question, as the last Congress had made sufficient appropriations to carry on the war for twelve months longer. Mr. A. appealed to him again and asked him if that was the way for a man who claimed to be so fair and honest,—not to answer a plain expection and one in which so much was increasing and one in which so much was inestion, and one in which so much was in-olved; in fact being the great question now be decided, and in which all present were anxious for him to answer? He again replied by saying that the time was too far off, even i he was elected to Congress, before he would be called on to act, for him to say how he would vote. The Judge's attempt to evade the question was so plain that several gentleme present, who have sons in the Federal arm

Mr. A. requested the gentlemen to be seated until he got through with him. The Judge, very much excited, with his right hand in his

that was not his object; he simply wanted his answer to a plain question, in which every man was interested, and that he had made a speech here, in which everybody present had nderstood him to say that he would not vote men and money to prosecute this war com-menced by traitors; that he now denied this

GENTLEMEN: At our last County Court, and said that, previous to the race he made with H. C. Burnett, in 1861, he had an interview with the President, in which the the secessionists here can bring out candidates when the polls are open, as they did for mag-istrates and constables, and every traitor go to President urged him to become a candidate or Congress in this District, giving him every the polls and vote for them. The manner is assurance that slavery was not to be interfere on them, is evidence enough to show that they have secret organizations. Traitors are now telling the people that Judge Trimble told them on yesterday, as he passed make the race against Burnett. But he now had to tell the people that the President had deceived him, and that he confessed that he ough this place on his way to Murray, that e had permission from the commander of this had been deceived in the object for which the war was being prosecuted, and that he admitted that men who turned secessionists upon the idea that the war was being waged to destroy officer, who knew the facts as they exist, and the true position of Judge Trimble, would consent for him to publish in public speeches slavery were correct, as their predictions had already been verified, from the fact that the is last, meanest, and most cowardly phase secession, and one that takes from the brave oldier in the field everything that sustains im. If we had such men as Col. Foster at enderson, Gen. Shackelford, or the commandwar was now being prosecuted in violation of the Constitution, and for the destruction of slavery. For two hours he labored hard to make the people believe that this was an abolition war, and one that had for its object the de-struction of the Constitution, and that those in r at Fort Hurrar, in Calloway county, or could gain get the gallant old hero of Belmont, Col. arms against the government were justifiable from the fact that they were right in their be lief that it was to be a war on slavery. He had would have no more disturbances at Union nothing so say against Jeff Davis and those engaged in this wicked rebellion. He was repeatspeaking; we would hear no more shouts for Jeff Davis; we would hear nothing more of edly cheered by traitors who have taken the oath to support and defend this government against all enemies. No one was at all disapmen having sympathy for the South, and more, would have no man to hold any office who was not for putting down this rebellion under inted in his speech, as all parties have re rded him as a secesh for eighteen months any and every circumstance that has now come up or ever will come up hereafter. This After taking his seat, Judge Trimble was asked respectfully if he was in favor of voting wicked and inhuman rebellion must be put down, or the government of our fathers is deasked respectfully if he was in favor of voting men and money to prosecute the war. He hesitated, but, being pressed for an answer, he gave an evasive one, yet one that was understood by all present that he would not; and he was again loudly cheered by the secesh and hissed by the Union men. The Judge said he was no candidate for office, but everybody believed he would be, and that his presch was only they were the second to be the second to the second to be second to stroyed, and all the great cry of traitors about the Constitution will then cease, as that instru-ment will also be destroyed.

[Correspondence of the St. Louis Republican.] IRONTON, Mo., June 1, 1863. I hasten to inform you that information has ast been received at this place of a severe skirmish between a portion of the Thirteenth Illinois Cavalry, Captain Leeper's Company of Third Missouri, and perhaps others, under Major Lippert, of the Thirteenth Illinois, and a rebel force (under whom is yet unknown). The fight took place, it is said, on Little Black river, between Big Black and Doniphan, in Ripley county. I learn our forces—in all from one hundred and fifty to two hundred—were on a scout, and fell in with a large force of the enemy—had a severe fight, and were de-feated with severe loss. Major Lippert is re-ported mortally wounded, and a large number of his men missing. It is said Capt. Leeper's company lost twenty men. It is feared the rebels will again advance on Patterson; but as there is a large army now here, there can be no doubt these rebel forces will be promptly disposed of.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUB. INSTRUCTION,

FOR CONGRESS, ROBERT MALLORY,

THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1863.

We publish in the Journal of to-day the resolutions adopted on Thursday last by the Democratic State Committee of New York. The Albany Argus, the central organ of the Democracy of the Empire State, thus notices the resolutions:

The Democratic State Committee met in this city yesterday, and took the occasion to give expression to their sentiments and those lowers and their secret emissaries threw down a challenge to the people and boldly proclaimed the prostration of civil rights and con claimed the prostration of civil rights and constitutional law under the feet of the military power, offered a provocation difficult to pass in silence. The challenge was accepted. The committee raise up the standard of the Union, the Constitution, and the laws, and calls upon all true Democrats, upon all citizens whose rights are imperilled, to rally to it.

As regards the subject of peace, which is the aspiration of every patriot, the committee declare that the only true, lasting, and benefi-cent peace which can be made is one that will once more embrace the whole Union under the ægis of the Constitution. A peace on the basis of separation would be but another name for war. Separation would be but a step to dissolution, and dissolution to anarchy.

We cannot trust the question of peace to of States and the people that have patriotically stood by the country in this great national Those who demand an instant peace propose in effect that the powers now at Washington and at Richmond should partition this once united country between them, and destroy forever all the chances of its reconstruction, and sink forever also the cause of consti tutional liberty throughout the world. No! let us have no such peace! If war is forced upon us as the alternative, let us sustain our armies in the field, with all the resources they Let us at the same time sustain the cause of the Constitution and of the doubly-imperilled Union, and the cause of civil and religious liberty, at the ballot-box. When bad men conspire, let patriots combine.

uage of moderation but in terms sufficiently rm and explicit. These words of protest and appeal, we believe, are timely. In this belief we unite with the Argus.

The views and sentiments thus summed up of the country everywhere are rallying for the York meetings, declaring the seceding States preservation of all that men and patriots hold | defunct. most dear. Standing on this ground, and struggling in behalf of a cause so precious and so vital, the conservatives of the country will prevail. They must prevail.

And, now, why will not all the adversaries of abolitionism throughout the loyal States rally on this ground in behalf of this cause? Why will not the peace faction in the North, and the secession faction in Kentucky, abandon their impracticable and disloyal positions, and unite with the Democrats or conservatives of the country in this mighty struggle for the preservation of the government of our fathers? If they cannot do this, why will they not be at least silent and passive? If they themselves cannot strive for the national salvation, why will they not forbear to embarrass and defeat those who are thus striving with their whole heart and strength? Why will they not? There is certainly no good reason why either should not. On the contrary, there is every good reason why both should. And yet the indications appear to be that neither will-The peace faction held vesterday a convention in the city of New York, with the view, as is presumed, of forming a separate organization; and we are not without premonitions that the secession faction in Kentucky contemplate a like step, if, indeed, the step is not already taken secretly. Among these premonitions, we will notice two or three.

About a week ago, Mr. W. P. Thomasson published in the Louisville Democrat a long address to the people of Kentucky, in which he announced himself a candidate for the Governorship of the State on the abolition platform, accompanying the announcement with a very elaborate defence of his platform, though, as we should not omit to add, he in a note to the Democrat has since declined the candidateship on the ground that he is not a citizen of Kentucky, a somewhat important fact which he says did not occur to him at the time. Mr. Thomasson in the opening of his address made the following remark:

We have already a candidate, nominated by the self-styled Union Democrats. The plat-form of this party is thought by some not sufficiently radical, and it is probable the National Democrats will also nominate a candidate. Indeed, it is said one is already nominated, though not announced. We need hardly say that the phrase "National Democrats' forms the appellation by which the secessionists of Kentucky now desire to be known. Mr. Thomasson's courteous recognition of this new alias of the the established name of the Union party, to say nothing of the appearance of his address in the columns of the organ of the "National Democrats," evinced a degree of good understanding with these factionists that invests his remark with something like authority. Here, then, is one premonition, the full significance of which we will not stop at present to de-

Another consists in the fact, that, a few days after the publication of Mr. Thomasson's address in the Democrat, a number of "National Democrats," with Ex-Governor Magoffin at their head, assembled in conclave in this city. Regarded in the light of Mr. Thomasson's remark, which under the circumstances was deemed by many to be at least semiauthoritative, the object of this assemblage was not unnaturally conjectured to be to provide either for the nomination of a candidate or for the announcement of one already nominated in secret. Such at all events was the prevailing conjecture.

Whilst this conjecture is yet rife amongst us, our neighbor of the Democrat, who for several weeks has been prosecuting what Captain Heady would call "a still hunt." breaks out as follows in the Democrat of yes-

Where shall Kentucky go? The cause of tween the people North and South. We see no end to this unless the people North and South can act together politically. We think it the first step to Union after all; and, as there is but one party North with whom the people. is but one party North with whom the people of the South can associate in political senti-ment, we think it high time that political association was formed. We do not profess to be allies of that party, but a member Kentucky.

Let us have, then, the National Democratic party in this State—a political association not merely professing to agree with the Demo-cratic party, but that belong to it.

When we consider that the Union party of ers will undoubtedly be pendent.

LOUISVILLE JOURNAL | Kentucky is in full and open accord with the Editor who puts forth this suggestion, and the elsewhere: men for whom under the name of "the National Democratic party" he speaks here, occupy a position which the Democratic party of the North expressly repudiates, which the peace faction of the North scorns to assume, and which Vallandigham denounces as not only "moral treason but very little short of actual treason itself," the character of the suggestion may be readily measured. When we consider further that the men for whom our neighbor here speaks embrace the rank and file and leaders of the secession party of Kentucky, the character of the suggestion measures itself. We, however, do not propose at present to deal especially with the character of the suggestion. We notice the suggestion as merely another premonition of the event in question Whether or not the event will actually occur, our readers can now judge as well as we can. For the sake of the harmony and prosperity and honor of Kentucky, we sincerely hope that it will not occur. And it certainly will not if the secessionists of the State are governed even by an intelligent sense of their own interests alone. We are sorry to be compelled to refer at all to this matter. It surely will not be our fault if we ever refer to it again.

The struggle between conservatism and radicalism is a struggle between the Union of the Constitution and the Union of the abolition platform. The question is really as to whether we shall have the Union of the Constitution or whether we shall have no Union. The struggle of conservatism against radicalism is thus but one aspect of the struggle of the Union against the rebellion, -of the nation for of their constituents in regard to public affairs in this crisis of the country. The anomalous gathering of the rival Republican factions of Utica, at which the contractors and speculators in our country's ruin and their deluded folent aspects of the same deadly hostility to the life and honor of the nation. The radicals are the allies of the rebels in arms.

This truth in its various phases is every day becoming more plain. The radicals themselves lose few opportunities to proclaim it. There are men so wild in their madness, as the Boston Post says, that they openly and boldly declare that they hope never to see the Union restored as it was. This was indeed the substance of a statement made by General Butler, the prominent candidate of the radicals for the next Presidency, in a speech made by him not long ago, as a bid for that effice. If this idea be adopted by that party as the platform for the next Presidential campaign, we shall see the verification of prophecies often made heretofore that the first avowed enemies of the Union, who would form a party at the North to bring men who have shown themselves incapable of conducting a war, or of respecting the rights been loudest in their denunciations of conservative men as traitors, and in boasting their own loyalty. Already we have the melancholy fact before us that the radical party is avowedly opposed to the restoration of the old Union. What does this mean? We speak of it from the record, and therefore what we say will not be denied by any of their organs. They are not in favor of prosecuting the war for the Union as it was, but they have in mind a vague notion of conquering the rebellion, and then giving us some form of government which is suited to their notions of what ought to be. This is what General Butler means Such, in general terms, is the purport of the resolutions put forth by the committee, in landary of radical politicians are laboring to acbody of radical politicians are laboring to accomplish. But why do they object to the old Union? Why do they insist that they are not in favor of returning to it? The answer is found in their own statements, often made and are the views and sentiments of the Union | repeated, that they are unwilling to permit the party of Kentucky. They are sound, and the | slave States to return into the Union at all. annunciation of them will prove salutary. It was to get rid of them that they invented, a We cordially subscribe to them. > This doctrine was started with the idea that it would be a capital platform for a disunion party, and it was the intention of the leaders to establish a political movement in the North on this basis, hoping that out of it would grow a powerful party, which would maintain control of the country by excluding from Congress and from voting on Presidential elections, all the slave States, or all that had pretended to secede. This movement commanded the assent and co-operation of all the leading radicals in New York, and the document declaring these disunion sentiments was signed by the Editors of the principal radical papers, and by many of the men who are now prominent in the loyal leagues. The movement was checked by the interference of Washington authority, and the treasonable plans of the authors failed entirely. But they never abandoned their intention, and we see it constantly coming up in their speeches and public meetings. The determination to exclude the Union men of the South from all voting privileges is more and more visible in the plots of Northern radicalism. Hence the heresy is now daily spread before the people that the Union can never be restored, and that we are not fighting for the Union as it was. In short, the idea is that we are engaged in a free fight, endeavoring to obtain the physical mastery over the rebels, with the intent to establish hereafter such a > as shall suit the radical leaders. All this is not only wrong, but is actually lending aid and comfort to the rebels. It is playing into their hands, assisting them to gather their forces and animate them for conflict. The true and only theory of this war is that it is a war for the Constitution; that submission to the laws of the United States in any district, or State, is so far the end of the war, the end for which the war was prosecuted, in that place; that the only future before us which has any hope in it is the return of all the States to the old form of Union, the old Constitution. Therefore, it is weakening our own arms and putting off the end of the war indefinitely, to teach that we are fighting to establish a new government or a new form of

ty to look forward to the possibility of having the representatives of Massachusetts met and balanced in the Senate by the representatives of South Carolina. We know how difficult secessionists, whilst repudiating with a sneer | it is for abolitionists to look forward to the presence in the Union of such a large number of States as will be for this generation, and doubtless for generations to come, practically unanimous in their abhorrence of abolitionism. But precisely that future is before us, if we have any success in the true objects of this war. The millions who reside in the South are there to-day as they were before the war began. They are not being wasted away by war, the process of extermination does not go on, nor is the country becoming depopulated. There are more white citizens in the South today than there were before the war began. There are a hundred thousand more slaves in the Southern States to-day than there were two years ago! Men forget these startling facts in wild theories of extermination. All the effects of the war thus far on slavery has been as nothing, in a practical point of view. All the ordinary effects of war are to be in this case, as in the case of other wars, more of a moral than of a physical character. Sometimes, but rarely, small nations are exterminated by long wars, lasting through half a century, or very many years. But the results of war in general are of a moral character, convincing one or the other power that it must yield or compromise. The inhabitants of the South are, in all human probability, to be in the future wise policy to divide it, by temptations to peace and union now, and the prospect of future prosperity under the old Constitution

MEETING OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COM-MITTEE-ITS POSITION UPON THE SUBJECTS OF PEACE, WAR AND CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS. The Democratic State Committee met in this city yesterday, and took the occasion to give expression to their sentiments and those of their constituents, in regard to public affairs in this crisis of the country.

The anomalous gathering of the rival Re-ublican factions at Utica, at which the contractors and speculators in our country's ruin, and their deluded followers, and their secret emissaries, threw down a challenge to the people, and boldly proclaimed the prostration of civil rights and Constitution and Law, under the feet of the military power, offered a provocation difficult to pass in silence.

The challenge was accepted. The Committee raise up the standard of the Union, the Constitution, and the Laws, and call upon all true Democrats, upon all citizens whose rights are imperilled, to rally to it. are imperilled, to rally to it.

It is the liberty of speech, civil and religious freedom, the right of trial by jury, and the privileges of the law, which are threatened on one sids and are defended on the other. Nor the issue thus made left to a mere declaration of purposes and principles.

The acts by which power seeks to establish usurpation and strike down liberty are even more formidable than the utterances of opin-ion, slavish, despotte, and degrading as these have been. In the free and peaceful States of the North, far removed from the lines of mili-tary operations or the scenes of insurrection, the military power has dispersed conventions, stroyed presses, silenced clergymen in their lpits and citizens at public meetings, and ized them and subjected them to arbitrary inishments, under military law. The coer-on and falsification of the soldier's vote under the dictation of civil authorities, as evinced, among other instances, in the case of Lieut. Edgerly, struck from the army rolls for voting sum of maladministration which calls for intant rebuke and defiance from the freemen of

In such a contest the voice of the Democ-In such a contest the voice of the Democracy will be heard in protest against the excesses of arbitary power, and on the side of civil order, public right, and true liberty.

As regards the subject of peace, which is the aspiration of every patriot, the committee declare that the only true, lasting, and beneficent peace which can be made is one that will appear the peace which can be made is one that will appear the peace which can be made in the peace which ca once more embrace the whole Union under the ægis of the Constitution. A peace on the basis of separation would be but another name basis of separation would be but another name for war. Separation would be but a step to dissolution, and dissolution to anarchy. There is too much reason to suppose that those who are recklessly asserting military authority at the North contemplate a peace upon the basis of separation, and are determined to coerce the Northern people into submission to it; and in so doing to consolidate a Northern government, to be given up to abolition rule.

We cannot trust the question of peace to men who have shown themselves incapable of ducting a war, or of respecting the rights of States and the people that have patriotically stood by the country in this national crisis. Those who demand an instant peace, propose in effect that the powers now at Washington and at Richmond should partition this once inited country between them, and destroy forever all the chances of its reconstruction, and sink forever also the cause of constitutional liberty throughout the world.

No! let us have no such peace! If war is forced upon us, as the alternative, let us sustain our armies in the field, with all the resources they call for. Let us at the same time sustain the cause of the Constitution and of the doubly imperilled Union, and the cause of civil and religious liberty, at the ballot-box. When bad men conspire, let patriots combine!

Such, in general terms, is the purport of the resolution put forth by the Committee, in language of moderation but in terms sufficiently firm and explicit. These words of protest and appeal, we believe, are timely. It is no time now, when our dearest rights are threatened, to be silent, It has not been the custom for the representative men of this or of any Republic to be cowed by the efficial insolence ivilians or the bravavo of military power. Mr. Crittenden, of Kentucky, in a recent speech, defined the duty of patriots in a crisis

We need not add that the committee warmly applauded the noble letter of Gov. Seymour to the Albany meeting in protest against the seizure, trial, and deportation of Vallandigseizure, trial, and deportation of Vallandigham by the military power. The letter fulfils the definition we have just quoted from the Kentucky patriot. A people who will not sustain such a noble defence of right against power "cannot be a free people, and do not

RESOLUTIONS OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTER OF NEW YORK .- At a meeting of the Democratic State Committee, held at the Delavan House at Albany, on Thursday, May 28th, 1863, the following resolutions were, after full consultation, unanimously adopted: This Committee deem the expression of their views upon the following subjects at this time as appropriate and demanded by the circumstances of the country: FIRST-SUPPORT OF THE GOVERNMENT. Resolved, That this Committee fully approve the following resolution, adopted by the last Democratic State Convention: "That they will continue to render the Government their sincere and united support in the use of all legitimate means to suppress the rebellion and to restore the Union as it was, and maintain the Constitution as it is—believing that that sacred instrument, founded in wisdom by our fathers, clothes the consti-tuted authorities with full power to accomplish

SECOND-MOVEMENTS FOR PEACE. Resolved, 1. That we carnestly desire the restoration of peace to our beloved country, now so long desolated by the scourge of this unnatural and fratricidal war. 2. That the terms of peace, when made, must necessarily determine the future character of our government, the condition of our people, and the destiny of our country.

3. That we have not faith in the views, the purposes, or the capacity of the dominant party, to determine questions of vital importance to the liberties, the rights, and the happiness of the American people.

That we hold that it is as incapable of making an honorable, beneficent peace, as experience has shown it to be of waging successful war. 4. That—as the inauguration of affirmative ceace movements at this time by those who have no power to give effect to their views, might afford the dominant party a pretext, in conspiracy with the Southern Confederacy, to make a peace by a separation of the States— and whereas the Democratic and conservative masses of our people, who are opposed to any terms of peace, which fail to restore the Union and save the Constitution, hesitate to trust that measure to the hands of those who are hostile to both—we deem this a fit occasion to protest against the negotiation of a peace by the Administration, except upon the basis of a preservation of the Union and of the Government established by the Constitution.

THIRD-USURPATION OF POWER AND INVASION OF PERSONAL RIGHTS. WHEREAS, The Republican party, through their journals and through their accustomed speakers at an organized meeting recently held in the city of Utica, have openly declared that this Government ought to place the Military above the Civil and Judicial authority; that it ought not to be held in check by the Constitutions of the United States or of the States; and that it may rightfully disregard the laws of the land, by suppressing freedom of speech, violating the homes of our citizens, and depriving them of their liberties, without WHEREAS, The great end of all free govern ments is to secure to the People the rights of persons, of property, of the fireside, of speech: and public discussion and of religious and potical opinion; therefore, in behalf of the nion-loving and law abiding citizens of this State, we repel and denounce the slavish, cowardly and despetic principles thus put forth by a political assemblage, which appropriately assumes the "loyal" designation under which the Tories of the Revolution proclaimed their inconditional support of the Administration of the King of Great Britain. And we charge that many of the active agents in gettin said meeting were influenced by pecuand personal interests, in contracts, offices, and Resolved, That we accept the issue thus tendered us by a party which proclaims its con-tempt of the Constitution and the Laws; and that we will go before the people of this State and of the country, with full confidence that they will not throw away those principles of incorporated in the foundations and frame-

Resolved, That while we do not object to the rightful exercise of military law, within the lines of warlike operations or amid the scenes of insurrectionary strife, we maintain that beyond those limits the civil law is su-preme, and that those who seek to prostrate it force of arms are traitors to the country the Constitution.

Resolved, That we recognize in the statesmanlike letter of Governor Seymour to the late Albany meeting, a noble defence of the principles of civil liberty, to which we pledge actions in the amusement line at present in the city would naturally seem a certainty of detracting from the audienences that attend the exhibitions of the magnificent Dioramic Panorama at Masonic Temple; however such is by no means the case. Many a wife and mother, many a sweetheart, and every soldier will recognize in a moment "a life picture." This is a very appropriate finale to these beautiful and exceedingly interesting

Wood's THEATRE.-This evening Mr. Wallack appears in the very effective play of the Iron Mask, which was originally written for him, and gives him the opportunity of displaying one of the most remarkable pieces of pathetic acting it has ever been our fortune to see. During his previous visits to our city he has performed this part, and no one can ever forget the intense interest of the scene where he is permitted for a short time to take off the mask which has so long shut him out from the light. The historic romance connected with the fate of the mysterious state prisoner of France, supposed to be a twin brother of the King, forms a noble subject for the dramatist, and the play is, therefore, one of the mo absorbing interest.

DARING ROBBERY .- A small band of gueri's and robbers, numbering some fifteen, and under the leadership of a noted horse-thief and guerilla named Petticord, of Tennessee, made a descent on Oakland Station, this side of Bowling Green, on the Louisville and Nashville Raffroad, on Tuesday evening, and, breaking open the store of S. E. Ledman & Co., stole five hundred dollars in money and carried off all the goods and chattels they could conveniently. We did not learn that they committed any further outrages, but suppose they scampered as fast as possible to avoid enconntering Federal soldiers. They made no attempt to interfere with the road.

LOUISVILLE THEATRE - Benefit of Miss Schenck .- This evening Shakspeare's beautiful and sparkling comedy of Much Ado About Nothing will be produced, with Mr. Neafie as Benedict. This play contains two of the most sprightly characters which ever teemed from the prolific brain of the great dramatist, and has always ranked among the standard favorites on the stage. The farce of the Secret, with Dawson in his amusing part of Thomas, will likewise be acted.

MACAULEY'S BENEFIT .- To-morrow night Mr. Macauley will offer a very attractive bill for his benefit at the Louisville Theatre. He has hosts of friends and admirers who will do their entire duty in making the occasion a compliment worthy of their favorite's de-PAYMASTERS FOR KENTUCKY .- A half dozen paymasters (Majors McDowell, Ballard, Cravens, Kermon, Scovill, and Walker) left Cin cinnati yesterday to pay off the 9th (General Burnside's) army corps. They will pay two months' arrearages up to the first of May.

TAKEN TO FRANKFORT .- The body of the lamented Colonel Craddock, of the Sixteenth Kentucky, was taken to the Frankfort Railpad depot yesterday evening, escorted by a art of the Twenty-fifth Michigan, and was sent hence to Frankfort on last night's train. A total eclipse of the moon was set down in the almanacs for Monday last, but the obscuration occurred at so early an hour in the evening that it does not seem to have attracted much attention. We certainly missed all sight of the phenomenon. SOLDIER KILLED .- A member of the 8th Michigan cavalry, whose name we were unable to learn, was shot and killed on Monday night, while the regiment was encamped near the Five Mile House, on the Lexington MORE PRISONERS .- Three commissioned officers and sixty-four privates arrived by the Nashville train last night. They were con

"DRIFTING ABOUT." Published by Carleton of New York. From F. A. Crump.

This is a sketchy, dashing, lively volume by tephen Massett, who seems to have been almost everywhere and seen almost everybody. His narrative of California life is very amusing, while his description of the blowing away from the cannon's mouth of the Sepoys in India is one of thrilling horror. The illustrations by one of the caricaturists of Vanity Fair add to its humor and make the volume one of the most readable books of the day. MARIAN GREY. Published by Carleton.

From F. A. Crump. This is a new volume by that popular writer Mrs. Mary J. Holmes, and is in her best style. A grain elevator is to be erected at Pittsburg this summer. The grain business of Pittsburg in 1862 was 10,156,783 bushels. The present cost of receiving grain from the Western roads, storing, and delivering to Eastern roads, or to the consumer, is about $50 per thousand bushels in bulk, or five cents per bushel. By a grain elevator the cost would be but $20, or two cents per bushel. Chicago has twenty of these elevators, and Cleveland nine. THE ICE MONOPOLY IN THE WEST .- The ice speculators in Chicago have succeeded in running the price of ice up in that city to a dollar for a hundred pounds. The butchers and others, who use large quantities, have organized an association, and agree to furnish this now necessary article to all large buyers at 25 cents per hundred, and to families at 50 cents per

> More Iron-Clads .- The Navy Department has been making contracts for some time for the construction of a large number of iron yessels of the Monitor style, with such improvements as experience has suggested to be advisable. The pay is to be according to the time at which they can be completed. They are to be adapted to harbor and coast defences.

Government. This class, however, constitutes a small minor.ty. Col. Baxter Smith, of Gen. John H. Morgan's brigade of rebel cavalry, was sent to Camp Chase, with a batch of other rebel pris-oners, on Monday last, by Gen. Paine, com-manding post at Gallatin. Col. Smith was captured about two weeks ago, near Hartsville, Tennessee, and brought as a prisoners to his native town, where, less than eighteen months ago, he was recruiting a battalion for the rebel service. His reflections while there lately must have been excessively nice.

On Monday morning, while Michael King, a member of the First Tennessee Infantry, was eating his breakfast in camp, some words ensued between him and a comrade named Naughton, when the latter took up a club and struck King over the left temple, knocking him insensible. In this state he remained until about nine o'clock on Monday night, when he died, and was buried yesterday after-noon. Naughton was arrested, and is now confined in jail, awaiting an investigation.

[Shelbyville (Tenn.) Correspondence of the Savannah News, May 18.]

GRANT OUTGENERALS JOHNSTON.—My pradiction that our army would make an advance movement before you heard from me again has been only partially fulfilled. All the contingencies on which the prediction was based, and which seemed at the time inevitable, did not transpire, and hence the partial failure of lfilment. It is certain that General Joseph Johnston has fully determined to force General Rosecrans to give him battle. The recent change in the enemy's programme on the Mississippi, however, made it necessary for him to send back the reinforcements we were receiving from Mobile and Vicksburg, and this left the Army of Terruessee too weak for offensive operations. But for this I have no kind of doubt that the second great battle of Middle Tennessee would have been fought be fore this; with our present army, which i only large enough to operate on the defensive it would be almost madness if General John ston was to advance upon and fight General Rosecrans in his strong position around Mur-freesboro. Let our people at home be patient and hopeful. The awful struggle will come soon enough. Gen. Johnston is in command.

He knows when and where to strike. DECISIONS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS.

During the day the Times office seemed the center of attraction, being visited by a large number of people.

In accordance with a call issued in the foremoon, an immense meeting assembled at eight o'clock to-night in front of the office. The crowd soon filled the street, rendering it impassable. The meeting shortly afterwards adjuurned to the court-house square, where they were addressed by gentlemen of both parties. The speeches counselled obedience to the laws, and denounced the recent order of Gen. Burnside as arbitrary and despotic. During the afternoon the militia were under arms, but at present writing the meeting is orderly, and nothing of a serious nature is anticipated.

I have received the following report by the steamer Judge Torrence, just arrived from the body that an order has been issued by General Burnside for the suppression of the Chicago Times; and, whereas, such order is in direct violation of the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and destructive of those God-given principles whose existence and recognition centuries before written constitutions were made, have made them as much a part of our rights as life which sus-

as much a part of our rights as life which sustains us; therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring therein, That we denounce the order which threatens an act so revolutionary and despotic, as contrary to liberty, destructive of good government, subversive of constitutional rights, and that, if carried into effect, we shall consider it equivalent to the overthrow of our form of government and the establishment of a military despotism in its stead. rifle-pits which barred the progress of the left wing of our army. Gen. Sherman supposed the enemy had removed his heavy guns to the rear of the city; on the contrary, he seemed to have planted more on the water side than usual. The Cincinnati was sunk, and went down in shoal water with her flag flying. The enemy still continued to fire upon her, but the flag was not hauled down. Twenty-five men were killed and wounded, and fifteen are missing. The latter are supposed to be drowned. The vessel can be raised. The pilot was killed in its stead.

Resolved, That, in view of the deplorable consequences which must inevitably follow such action, if justified by the General Government, we respectfully yet firmly request the withdrawal of the order in question and the disavowal thereof by those in power as the only course which can be pursued to reassure our people that constitutional freedom, so dear to their hearts, has not ceased to exist; and the Mr. Ruggles, from the Committee on Reso-utions, submitted a resolution, which appealed to Congress to take action in regard to the Ship Canal around the Falls of Niagara. the provisions of Courts, which point out the attention of Congress to the importance of the work. These, together with the resolu-tion presented by Mr. Ruggles, were referred to the committee, and the convention adjourned till 3 o'clock. Afternoon Session.—Mr. Ruggles reported the following: The representatives of loyal States assembled in National Convention at Chicago, desirous of cementing closer the when crimes are to be punished, and high-handed violations of sworn duties of rulers, who claim dictatorial and unlimited military power, and trial of citizens by court-martial are monstrous and execrable; that the Union for perpetuating our nationality, of providing for the common defense, and promoting the general welfare of our whole country, dogma of unlimited submission to the executive branch of the Government is unworthy adopt the following resolutions:
